With decades of experience and an unwavering dedication to high-quality products, Bosch detectors are the best in any class.

Blue Line Gen 2 Motion Detectors build upon this reputation with a series that delivers easy installation, excellent catch performance and false alarm immunity.

The new range comprises three powerful models for a variety of applications: a basic PIR version, a Quad PIR detector, and a TriTech detector that combines PIR and microwave technology.

Pet-friendly models allow the installer to adjust pet immunity settings to suit the application requirements.

Features and benefits

- ▶ Three powerful Gen 2 models for most reliable detection
- ▶ “First Step Processing” provides highest false alarm immunity and catch performance
- ▶ Ingenious features that speed up installation time
- ▶ Discreet security – with quality you can trust

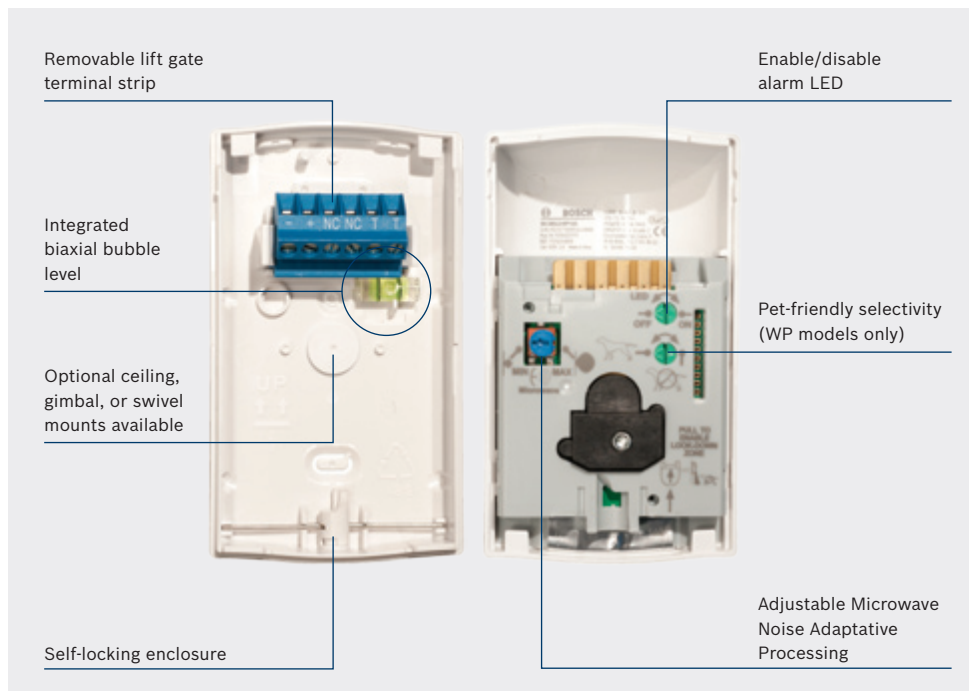

Highest Performance, best in reliability

The new range features Microwave Noise Adaptive Processing to easily differentiate humans from false alarm sources. For increased reliability, TriTech sensors process PIR and microwave signals independently. Our pet-friendly models rule out motion from animals, so you only handle valid alarms.

Blue Line Gen 2 Motion Detectors deliver a broad 12x12 meter gap-free coverage area, and offer advanced First Step Processing that intelligently analyzes motion for a quick response to valid human targets.

Easy installation – the fastest way

A self-locking two piece enclosure, an integrated biaxial bubble level, and a removable terminal strip reduce mounting time to mere seconds. The commercial grade terminal strip is designed to prevent incorrect wiring. There is simply no easier way to install a detector.

Easy Line
